Re: Digital Marketing Position

I have recently relocated from Cape Town, South Africa to Schattdorf, Switzerland and am looking for a position that can make use of my skills and talents. I am a methodical, task-driven individual with a strong organisational ability and whether dealing with a team or individuals, I am able to build strong and trusting relationships. I'm hard working and always eager to learn new things and therefore enjoy change and this also encourages me to be an early adopter of technology.

My marketing experience with various brands at the strategy and implementation level will stand me in good stead for an international company such as Datwyler. I hope that you will allow me an interview so that I may introduce myself.

Yours sincerely,

Rochelle Harwin
